NEW-YORK, FEB. 10.

The fast failing ship Paragon, capt Fow-ler, arrived here on Saturday evening, in 29 days from Liverpool, and 12 days from the land; by which conveyance the editors of the New-York Gazette have received London papers to the 6th of last month, inclusive, Liverpool papers of the 7th, and Lloy'ds lifts to the 6th, and afford a variety of interelting matter.

It appears that Parliament met on the 13th December, and adjourned to the 28th; on which day both houses again affembled, when an interesting conversation took place in the house of Commons relative to the limitation of the intended Regency. Both houses met on Saturday the 5th of January, and adjourned to Monday the 7th, when the

An interesting French decree relative to American property, will also be found in our columns of this day.

It is afferted in a London paper, that Bonaparte has recently had another attack of his Vienna complaint. A, letter from Liverpool of the 6th ult. contains the following : " Our present mini-Hers have already been twice in the minority on the Regency business, and it is now cer tain, that they will not be in office many days. It is generally expected, that one of the first acts of the Regent and new ministers will be the American business, and we have very consident expectations that the orders in council will be repealed.

PARIS, DEC. 25.

The following is a copy of a letter from the Grand Judge Minister to Justice, to the President of the Gouncil of Prizes:

"Paris, Dec. 25.

" The minister of foreign affairs in pursuauce of the orders of his majesty the Emperor and King, addressed, on the 5th of August, to the plenipotentiary of the United States of America a note, containing the following/words: [Here follows the Duke de Cadore's letter to General Armstrong of 5th August, and the President's proclama-tion, etc. and then proceeds thus]—" In consequence of this engagement of the government of the United States to cause its rights to be respected, his majesty orders that all causes which may be pending before the Council of Prizes, respecting captures of American vessels, dating from the 1st of November, and those which may be afterwards brought before faid court, thall not be deci-fled upon according to the Berlin and Milan decrees, but shall remain sulpended : the veftels previously feized being only placed under lequestration, referving to the proprietors their rights until the 2d of February next, the period when in consequence of the United States having sussiled the engagement of cauling their rights to be respected aid prizes must be declared null by the conteil, and the American vessels restored with their

An address for this purpose, figned by the principal persons concerned in the trade, we under-fland, has been already delivered, but no reply has yet been given to it.

We are this day enabled to lay before our readers, by the arrival of some French papers, a portion of the annual exposition which Buonaparte publishes of the state of the case. Buonaparte publishes of the state of the nec. There is one passage in this document which appears very curious, afte what we heard of Buonaparte's having repealed his Berlin and Preparations, we understand, are making for the Prince of Wales, when appointed regent, going in state to open the sessions of parliament. The board of works issued orders for this purpole a few days since; and every exertion is making to complete the grand entrance to the house of lords, set apart for his majesty. The inclemency of the weather will prevent the workmen from proceeding in the open air; but the flone work is preparing at Pimlico.

The lubject of the establishment of a regency was fubmitted to the British parliament the 27th D-c. and agreed to. The regency bill would be immediately passed, and we have no doubt (fays the Boston Centices) the Prince of Wales was in the exercise of the Executive power the tenth Jan. at farthests A change of ministry would be one of his sirst measures, and the call of a new parliament, probably the next. A sketch of the debate in the House of Lords on this subject, is given this day. The London Globe of Dec. 28, is entirely filled with the debate in the House of Lords on the appointment of a regency. The ministers contended that if a regent was appointed, it did not necessarily follow that the Prince of Wales ought to be the person—and adduced inflances where the heir apparent had not been selected on such occasions.
